

A painting of several fishermen on a beach, washing their large, colorful fishing nets. The nets are draped over the ground and are being held up by the fishermen. The scene is set on a sandy beach with waves breaking in the background. The overall tone is somewhat somber, reflecting the text's message of disappointment.

Luke 5 vv.1-11

“Put out into deep water ..”

- where you're living

“at the water's edge”

- what you're doing

“washing nets”

- how you're faring

“caught nothing”