spiralling
up

The word "spiral" is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font, with a black outline. It is oriented vertically along the right side of the DNA structure. The letter "g" is enclosed within a circular outline, which is part of the spiral's path. Below the "g", the letters "up" are written in a smaller, white, wavy font, also with a black outline.
